Always Compliant ... hassle free!

Employers are required to display many federal, state and local labor law postings. Historically these requirements have been satisfied with paper posters and replaced annually or more frequently as needed. With modern technology available today, postings can be displayed using the ELLIS purpose-built digital signage device that is connected to the Internet to receive automatic updates as they occur. ELLIS devices are "set it and forget it" and always up to date which frees up your staff and reduces overall compliance logistics. ELLIS is the innovative new way to stay compliant in the digital world.

ELLIS is an integrated system that consists of a cloud-hosted compliance center which manages smartdevices that display government-required labor postings. The center of the ELLIS Network is the client portal which collects key enterprise data which informs posting selection. Unique client profiles produce manifests which deliver customized compliance content to each ELLIS smartdevice.
